Heronter's Twelfth Night Celebration

On Saturday, January 24, the Shire of Heronter held their annual Twelfth Night celebration at the First Presbyterian Church, autocratted by Lord Antonio. It was one of the most well-attended Twelfth Nights in recent memory. Not only did members invite friends to check out the SCA, but the entire staff of Wild Rose Renaissance Fair was invited to join us as our honored guests. Many of them drove over five hours to attend our event.

The morning and early afternoon were spent doing what scadians do best... schmoozing! For the martially inclined, armored combat and fencing took place in the basement. For the more peaceful among us, the competitions at the back of the hall ranged from period chess for two to not-so-period Munchkin for eight.

Lord Lothin passed out the King cakes and our Queen of Misrule for the evening was chosen. It was Rachel, one of our guests. She was crowned with a wreath of plastic ivy and holly and quickly got into the swing of things by ordering all the lords wearing tights to show off their legs while the assembled ladies of the hall picked a "Best Looking Legs" winner. Random gentles were called upon to perform bardic pieces for the hall or do silly stunts.

Among the day's entertainment, the Emerald Lake Puppet Theatre did an encore performance of the shows they put on at Harvest Raid. The audience was entertained with two different plays, The Magic Mushrooms and The Magic Hat. The audience might not have been able to pay the expensive admission fee of half-pence or four pins, however the Queen of Misrule and Duchess Dorinda graciously gave largess of pins and pennies to the crowd mere moments before the performance began. The puppeteers for the evening; Lord William the White, Lord Bjorn Einarsson, Lady Veronica D'Artusio, and Lord Dagonell the Juggler gave a well-applauded performance.

The potluck feast was not quite potluck as the autocrat had gentles sign up in specific categories so we had no shortages and enough for all. There was also an extensive sideboard available during the day that seemed to be a little chocolate heavy, not that anyone objected to this not-quite-period confection. The food was plentiful, hot and some dishes were even period. There was more than enough for anyone to have seconds.

The feasters were offered a small token gift of a handmade, colored votive candle from a couple who have recently started making their own candles. They gave away nearly four dozen candles. The real entertainment during feast was the admission of new members to the shire's notorious and unofficial Order of the Tart. For those who are not from Heronter, the Tarts are a "Person I'd Most Like to Receive a Cloved Orange From" order. The current members of the order called up two candidates to join them this year, Lady Brigitte and Lord Jacob. Brigitte was admitted for not only for showing off her own cleavage, but assisting other ladies in creating cleavage displaying garb. Jacob was admitted for his willingness to remove his shirt while doing any form of manual labor. Upon being admitted to the order, he promptly removed his shirt!

After the feast was the Dreaded Chinese Gift Exchange. Each gentle who participated brought a wrapped present, all of which were piled on the back tables. Each participant was given a ticket. As tickets were drawn, gentles had the option of opening a gift, or taking an already-opened gift away from someone else. The person who had their gift stolen received the ticket to be redrawn at a later time. As the drawing went on, many gifts changed hands many times before arriving in the hands of their final owners.

After the Chinese auction, the feast tables were put away and dancing began. Four out of five dancers polled said that more men needed to dance. It should be noted that when the poll was taken, Lord William the White was dancing with four ladies in a circle dance. There was also more schmoozing until it was time to leave. Many of our guests had a five-hour drive still ahead of them. All in all, a highly

A Pottage of Pasternaks (A 12th Night Recipe)

Translation:

#5 Turnips in Potage.

Take turnips and make them clean, and wash them clean. Quarter them. Parboil them, take them up. Cast them in a good broth and seeth them. Mince onions and cast thereto saffron and salt and mix it forth with sweet powders. In likewise manner, make pasternaks and skirrets.

Notes:

Saffron is literally more valuable than gold as it is hand picked and sold by the thread. For a dish with this many flavors, it would be little more than a coloring agent. I skipped it. Pasternaks are a family of root vegetables including turnips, parsnips, carrots and rutebegas. According to the OED, skirrets are "a species of water parsnip, formerly much cultivated in Europe for its esculent tubers." Cariadoc says he's never seen them for sale. I've never heard of them before.

Since I was making this for a shire potluck, I doubled all his amounts. Next time I won't use quite so many onions. He used chicken broth for his stew. I wanted something for the vegans, so I used vegetable broth. It went over quite well with the vegans and was even better the next day. This dish is period, cheap, hot, good and filling, an excellent feast menu choice.

Redaction:

- 1 rutebega (~ 1 lb.)
- 3 turnips (~ 1 lb.)
- 1 bunch carrots (~ 1 lb.)
- 2 quarts vegetable broth
- 1-1/2 lbs of onions
- 4 teaspoons salt
- 4 teaspoons sugar
- 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 3/4 teaspoon ginger

Peel and dice the root vegetables. Cover with water and set to boil for 20 minutes. Peel and quarter onions. Drain root vegetables, add the onions and vegetable broth and bring to a boil. Stir in salt, sugar, cinnamon and ginger. Boil for another 20 minutes or until vegetables are soft and liquid has thickened slightly.

What Happens When Three Bards Gather In a Tavern? March 7th , Dominion of Myrkfaelinn

On Saturday March 7th, from 10am-6pm, the people of Myrkfaelinn will be hosting a Bardic event with a Tavern theme. What happens when three bards walk into a bar? I'm not sure, but you can bet there will be music, stories, and a lot of laughter. If you're an experienced Bard, would like to try it, or just enjoy rubbing elbows with those great folks that keep us entertained, than this is the event for you. More of a fighter? We've got that!

Looking for something more quiet and artsy? We'll also be holding a Scriptorium! and, as always, we'll have some great activities for the little ones!

There will be no feast for this event. Instead, we'll be offering an all day Tavern theme sidebar!

Event Autocrat is Lady Magdalena de Mayfeld (May Lovelace, 423 E. Lincoln Street, Ithaca NY 14850 (607) 279-0125, mrlovelace34@gmail.com) who may also be contacted with any dietary concerns.

Cost for this event is $8.00 for the day, plus $3.00 Non-Member Surcharge for those appearing without a card. (12 and under are half price, babes-in-arms are free). There is a family cap of $35. No reservations are being accepted. This event will take place at Risley Hall on the Cornell University campus (515 Thurston Ave, Ithaca, NY 14850). The site is dry and open flames are prohibited.

Directions: Follow Route 13 to Ithaca and take the Triphammer Road exit at the top of the hill. Head southeast on N Triphammer Rd for just under 1 mile. At the stop sign make a left onto Hanshaw Rd and immediately turn right at Klinewoods Rd/Triphammer Rd. Continue on Triphammer Rd. At the stop sign turn left onto Wait Ave. Risley hall will be the brick building directly ahead of you at the next stop sign.

NOTE: For those who have visited this site before, please note that, due to a new security system, NO door may propped open for ANY period of time. Troll will be set up near the front doors to assist with entrance to the facility.

Stormsport's Feast of the Bears

By popular demand, the Shire of Stormsport is happy to announce the return of the "Bears Event" on March 14th, 2009. The site is the same as last year's winter event- St. Teresa's Catholic Church, 9 Third Avenue, Union City, PA 16438. The site opens at 9am and closes at 9pm.

Heavy weapons fighters will compete to determine the winners of both a bear pit and a double elimination tournament. The bear pit will begin as soon as the second round of the double elimination tournament has ended. The winner of the double elimination tournament will receive an invitation to the Amethyst Tournament to be held later in the year.

Our Feastocrat from last year's event, Tracie of Stormsport (Tracie Whitney, phone 814-218-9865 or e-mail traciewhitney@yahoo.com, please include FEAST in the subject line), will be returning to cook another excellent lunch and feast. Please contact her with any dietary or allergy concerns. Feast is limited to 60 gentles, so please reserve early.

There will be an Arts & Sciences competition with a winner chosen by popular vote. We also plan to have merchants, a silent auction, a few classes, and maybe even dancing. Anyone wishing to teach a class or merchant at the event, or anyone with questions or requests, can contact the Autocrat, Lord Caelan Ó Ruairc (Randy Hurlburt), 21 Perry St., Union City, PA 16438, caelanoruairc@verizon.net, 814-438-9355.

Site fees for the event are $8.00 for adults, $4.00 for children ages 5-12, and children under 5 are free. This includes a sideboard lunch. An additional $3.00 non-member surcharge will be collected at the door. Feast fees are $8.00 for adults, $4.00 for children 5-12. Please send reservations to Lady Ciara O'Crotaigh (Char Smith), 1007 W. Grandview Blvd, Erie, PA 16509, charsmith@verizon.net. Please make checks payable to SCA, Inc. – Shire of Stormsport.

The site is wet, but no open flames, please. For a full schedule of the day's activities and further details, please check the Stormsport Web site at www.stormsport.org/subpages/events.html.
